Microsoft Dynamics 365 Finance Functional Consultant

Certification Training Program

About the Role

What is Dynamics 365 Finance?

Microsoft Dynamics 365 Finance is an application which empowers businesses to enhance their financial health through analytics and data, business process automation and financial risk reduction.

What does a Functional Consultant do?

As a Functional Consultant, you will analyse your clients' financial tools and processes against their goals and challenges. You will then plan a solution that leverages Dynamics 365 Finance to optimize and maximise their processes.

How much does a Functional Consultant earn?

The average yearly salary of a Functional Consultant in the UK is around £65k, within a range starting around £50k and extending to about £85k.

Career growth prospects

From this role, you can extend horizontally by learning to work with more Microsoft Solutions (thus increasing your value); or vertically by training to become a Solution Architect.

You may also consider becoming a Microsoft Certified Trainer and supporting others to gain Power Platform skills.

Program Approach & Benefits

Self-Paced

From experience, we know it can be a challenge to invest a lot of time in training when you are also working.

With this program, train when it works for you – with only 1 to 2 weekly hours of live sessions and the rest being self-paced.

Active Support

Self-paced doesn't mean alone! The Microsoft space can seem complex and intimidating at first.

We offer Q&As, coaching and mentoring throughout the program to ensure you meet your career transition goals.

Certification Guarantee

We understand that changing directions mid-career can be scary. To give you peace of mind, we offer a certification guarantee.

Provided you follow the program, attend all sessions and take all training, we work with you until you get certified.
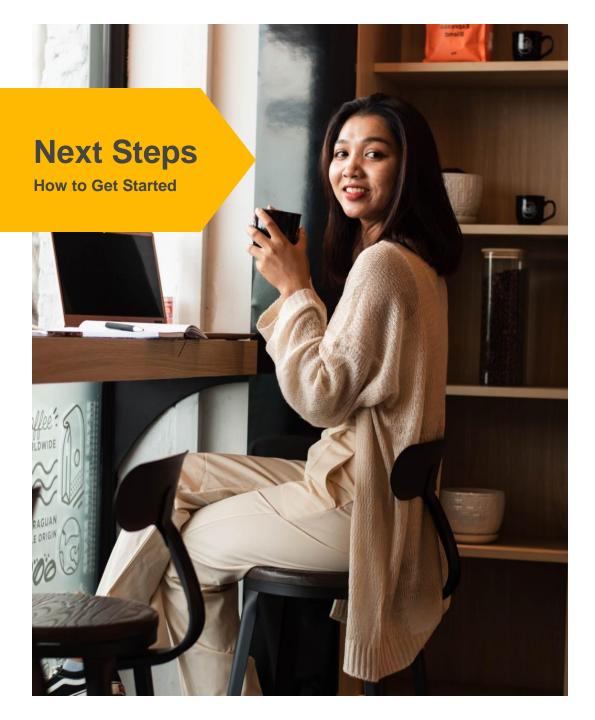

Job Search Optimisation

We are hiring professionals as well as a learning partner. This means we know a lot about what it takes to find a job with a Microsoft tech employer!

This program gathers all our knowledge and teaches you how to optimise your job search for Microsoft roles.
